

Sports premium funding 2014-2015

July 2015

What is the Sports Premium funding?

Sport premium funding comes from the government and is designed to help Primary schools improve the quality of PE and sports activities they offer their pupils. Schools may use the funding in a variety of ways.

This year St.Marks joined with PASS ( physical activity and sports specialist teachers) to support the development and quality of teaching of PE and sport across the school. Together with PASS they chose 4 areas of development to focus on.

- Develop teachers expertise and confidence on delivering PE
- Change pupils attitudes towards PE across the school.
- Develop and understanding of the importance of health and fitness amongst pupils.
- Review the PE curriculum

Developing teachers' expertise

This year each class teacher has spent 1-2 terms working together with PASS to develop their understanding, subject knowledge, understanding of assessment and confidence teaching areas of the new PE curriculum. They have had the chance to observe, team teach and use the new assessment criteria each week. They have begun to use the new schemes of work for each area of PE. Feedback on the new scheme has been positive and Percy Class and Mrs Jones have enjoyed using the new fundamental skills lessons to introduce them to PE.

Changing pupils attitudes towards PE

Cat in the Hat class have developed their fundamental skills through using lots of new equipment.

Kensuke class has developed their netball and athletics skills and enjoyed self assessing against bronze, silver and gold criteria each week.

Pegasus class have enjoyed developing their gymnastics skills, they have been able to use new gymnastics equipment for rolling. They have enjoyed seeing themselves progress each week using their self assessment criteria.

Dickens class have had the chance to learn new skills and increase their confidence in tag rugby and gymnastics.

Percy class have enjoyed learning lots of fundamental skills including, locomotion, gymnastics and team games. They have enjoyed using their skills in their FS sports day.

Objectives achieved this year

- ✓ Play leader training
- ✓ Introduction of School Sports Organizing Crew
- ✓ Change 4 Life training
- ✓ Intra school competitions
- ✓ Inter school competition at Kent School games
- ✓ New PE curriculum
- ✓ Up skilling of PE teaching

Intra/Inter sport competition attended

Quicksticks hockey	Year 3/4
Tri Golf	Year 3/4
Tag Rugby	Year 5/6
Cross country
Cycling
Inter house competitions	Whole school
Sports day	Whole school

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words. One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words. The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words. One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words. The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment

upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words. Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image,

Caption describing picture or graphic.

place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Organization

Business Name

Primary Business Address
Address Line 2
Address Line 3
Address Line 4

Phone: 555-555-5555
Fax: 555-555-5555
E-mail:
someone@example.com

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Business Tagline or Motto

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words. If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those other graphic. here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some

Caption describing picture or graphic.